EDUCATION

THE Undersigned having made arrangements for pursuing his educational labours at his Family Residence, which is beautifully situated on the banks of the River William, has immediate accommodation for FOUR PUPILS as Boarders. By Christmas, he will have ample and superior accommodation for eight additional pupils; and contemplates the gradual enlargement of his setablishment, according as he shall meet with that measure of encouragement which he has every reason to anticipate.

The pupils he purposes to train on a plan which shall embrace, as far as circumstances will allow, the chief excellencies of Emmanuel Fellenberg's mode of management at Hofwyl. They will have gardens and ground placed under their individual and collective care, for cultivation and experiments in agriculture and gardening. And, besides the ordinary routine of classical, literary, and mathematical studies a round of experiments will be attempted and prosecuted, in accordance with the views and investigations of Justus Lieibig, as developed in his Treatise entitled "Chemistry in its application to Agriculture and Physiology."

The undersigned has recently received from Great Britain an extensive School Apparatus—Chambers' School Atlas—Globes—Chemical Chest—and other appliances fitted for the efficient conduct of an Educational Establishment: among these are the latest editions of Lyall's and Trimmer's Works on Geology, and Allen's edition of Phillips's Mineralogy—with complete cabinets of Geological and Mineralogical Specimens, illustrative of the whole range of such studies. The pupils will thus have the opportunity of comparing specimens of fossils, rocks, and minerals, from all other parts of the world, with those gathered in the mountains in the immediate neighbourhood of their studies.

The undersigned possesses, besides, allibrary of upwards of 700 volumes, embracing in the mountains in the immediate neighbourhood of their studies.

The undersigned possesses, besides, a library of upwards of 700 volumes, embracing the late publications of the Central Society of Education, complete sets of Chambers' Educational Course, of their Edinburgh Journal, Information for the People, and their People's Editions of important Standard Works,—with a wide rauge of approved authors on scientific, literary, and philosophical subjects:—so that varied information, of an interesting and eminently useful character, will be constantly at the command of the pupils.

In the domestic arrangements of the undersigned, especial watchfulness is exercised over the growth and culture of those moral feelings and social affections which may be considered as constituting The Religions of the undersigned at every step of his educational progress;—sure that, if those under his charge be thus led to practise from the heart their duties to for.

At the same time, every facility will be afforded to the pupils of resping the benefit of the weekly or—when possible—more frequent ministrations of the various Clergymen who may conscientiously ply their labours in the immediate vicinity of Porphyry Point Lyceum.

The terms of board and education which the ceum.

The terms of board and education which the undersigned proposes for Colonial Pupils are £50 per annum for those above, and £40 per annum for those under twelve years of age. For pupils from the adjacent Colonies, or from India, any additional care or outlay involved in the peculiarities of the case will be matter of specific arrangement.

MR. J. EMANUEL, Examined Surgon-Dentist, Member of the College of Surgeons of Holland, having with unremitted diligence made the science of Artificial Teeth his peculiar study, continues to surpry Agripicial treating, one principle which, for utility, comfort, or appearance, and nicety in the arrangement, (giving perfect restoration of the features, their natural symmetry, especially in the shape and expression of the mouth, combined with their durability), cannot, if equalled, be surpassed in any city of Europe; and for which be has received his piplowa as obxists, and testimonials from the Piofessors of Leyden and Utrecht Colleges.

Natural, Artificial, or the new patent thin real Teeth, lately arrived from Paris, which will be found very superior te all others, as they will never change colour or decay, and their perfect resemblance to nature defices detection even by the closest observer. This method does not require the extraction of any teeth or roots, or any painful operation whatever.

Natural Teeth beautifully mounted in Artificial Gums, on Mr. Emanuel's painless but effective system of self-adhesion, without aprings or clasps of any kind, from one to a complete set.

All operations appertaining to the Dential Art attended to on sound surgical principles.

Mr. Emanuel's Cement for stopping decayed teeth, however large the cavity: it is far auperior to anything ever before used, as it is placed in the tooth in a soft state, without any pressure or pain, and in a short time becomes as hard as the enamel, and will remain firm in the tooth for years, rendering extraction unnecessary. It arrests all further progress of decay, and renders them again useful in mastications. The tooth warranted never to change colour. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1844. Sworn to no master, of no sect am I."

THE BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES. WITHIN the last week we have received Bank of New South Wales, the tenor of all of which is that the shareholders ought to have full and explicit statement of their accounts before them, previous to their being called upon to wipe off £75,000 of their capital. We quite agree with our correspondents; but still do not think that the publication of anonymous letters, containing mere declamation and charges of collusion, would be of the slightest use. The shareholders have the matter entirely in their own hands. Let them, at the alled for next week, demand to see the list of liabilities referred to in the report which has been published by the Directors: if this list requires any explanah the Directors are not prepared to give, let the meeting be adjourned until they are prepared. These steps the share-holders can easily take, and having the easily take, and having the lists and documents they can then see if anything further can be done to protect the interests of the Bank; and it may become a duty to the community to expose some of the transactions. Nothing however can be done unless the shareholders ever can ue come unions the shareholders are firm; it is a duty they owe to the n-selves, their creditors, and their familes, to resist any attempt to reduce the nominal capital of the Bank without having in the capital of the Bank without having in the most ample manner investigated the circumstances which have led to the less of the enormous sum of £75,000; but is must be done openly and without fear of affronting the Directors, and not by me in of apparatuments letters in managements. ous letters in newspapers.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

BANK OF AUSTRALASIA.

Monday, 3rd June, 1844.

1. In laying before the Proprietors the result of the transactions of the Bank for the year of account ending on the 16th October, 1845, at this the Tenth Annual Meeting, held is compliance with the provisions of the Deed of Settlement, the Directors are desirous of reminding them, that in their last two Reports, the distressed state of the Australasian Colonies was adverted to in strong terms. It is with feelings of disappointment and regret that they have now to inform the Proprietors that the severity of the pressure then noticed had sine augmented to an unparalleled degree, shaking the credit and involving the ruin of large classes of the community, and had continued to the date of the latest advices with but little untimation.

of the community, and not commune to the date of the latest advices with but little mitigation.

The Proprietors, will, therefore, not be surprised to learn that, in the general distress, it his Corporation has not escaped without heavy losses, and its interests might have been more seriously affected, but for the precautions taken by the Directors at the commencement of its business, and since steadily adhered to, in the accumulation of considerable reserves to meet such adverse circumstances, inseparable, even in ordinary times, from large and distant operations like those of this Bank.

The Directors have, however, the satisfaction of stating, that the accounts which they have received from the various managers of branches, carefully revised in each case by the Superintendent and examined by themselves, enable them to assure the Proprietors that the irrecoverable losses are more than amply provided for by the funds set apart for that purpose; and that the debts due to the Bank of a doubtful character, though it is feared they may prove of considerable amount, are not expected to be of a magnitude, even under the most unfavourable view that can at present be taken of them, to involve any serious impression on the rest.

2. The Directors think it necessary & advert, of them, to involve any serious impression on the rest.

2. The Directors think it necessary to advert, in this place, to a large towance made, in March, 1843, to the Bank of Australia, at Sydney, under circumstances of a peculiar character, which was joined in by this establishment, to the extent of £160,000, the knowledge of which, at the time, caused much anxiety.

knowledge of which, at the time, caused much anxiety.

3. It is not now necessary to bring under review the reasons which induced the Superintendent and Local Board at Sydney to take this important step, but it is incumbent on the Directors to assure the Proprictary that arrangements have been entered into for the repayment of the advance, of the perfect safety of which they entertain no doubt; and to add that, immediately they received accounts of this transaction, they issued instructions to prevent the recurrence of any similar ones, taking occasion at the same time to reiterate their previous orders limiting the amount of accommodation to all parties within moderate bounds.

4. The experience which the Directors have 4. The experience which the Directors have now had of the general working of the Bank having satisfied them that the smaller branches are not productive of benefit commensurate with the capital they absorb, and that they also divert the attention of the Superintendent from duties of greater importance, they authorised Mr. Hart to withdraw from those districts, which, in his opinion, did not afford a sufficient field for banking operations.

not afford a sufficient new rowsing. Acting under these instructions, Mr. Hart had made arrangements for closing the Bathurst branch on the lst of March last, and he would probably adopt a similar course at Maitland.

By these measures the Directors hope to effect a reduction in the expenditure, and, by concentrating the business, to place it on a safer footing than when spread over a wider surface.

concentrating the business, to place it on a safer footing than when spread over a wider surface.

5. During a period of such unexam led distress and commercial embariassment as that which has prevailed in the colonies for such a length of time, it required a person of no ordinary ability, prudence, and judgment to watch over the interests of the Corporation; and the Directors have much satisfaction in stating, that the Superintendent, Mr. Hart, has proved himself to possess those qualifications in an eminent degree, and to be thoroughly competent to the discharge of the important trust confided to him.

6. Impressed with a deep sense of the importance of a due superintendence of the Bank's affairs, and of the serious inconvenience which might arise from a temporary suspension of the office, the Directors have deemed it expedient to send out to the colonies a person competent to assist the Superintendent in the performance of his onerous duties, and who, in the event of casualty, could temporarily administer the affairs of the Corporation, until other arrangements could be made from home.

The gentleman appointed to the office is Mr. James John Falconer, a person of considerable mercantile experience, and to whose character and qualifications most satisfactory testimonials have been received.

7. The Directors have now to present the usual statement of the accounts for the veer

7. The Directors have now to present the usual statement of the accounts for the year ending the 16th of October, 1843, from which it will be seen that the profits have exceeded those of the preceding year; but the Directors have deemed it advisable to appropriate out of them this year as large a sum to the Bad-debt Fund, as is compatible with the payment of the dividends.

The amount of the Rest, or Undivided Profit at the 10th of October, 1842, as shown at the last annual meeting was
o which are now to be added the profits realized both in the colonies and London, to the 16th October, 1843,
after defraying all expenses

S. In deference to the wishes expressed at the last Annual Meeting, and under the peculiar state of affairs in the colonies, the Directors also annex a statement, showing the amount and appropriation of the Bad-debt Fund, which has not herectofore appeared in the accounts submitted to the proprietors, although the existence of the fund was not unknown to them, the prudence of having accumulated which, in times of prosperity, will, the Directors trust, be now fully apparent.

Leaving to meet the further losses which may arise out doubtful debts, but the exact amount of which cannot be ascer-tained until each account is finally wound up

The loss upon these doubtful debts can at present be only a matter of conjecture, subject to a variety of contingencies. Should the state of the colonies improve, and the value of the main property in them, namely, land and stock, advance, such improvement must tend to diminish the ultimate losses of the Bank; on the other hand, a long continuance of the existing state of depression must of course aggravate them.

Heat.

But the Directors think they may repeat with sonfidence what has already been declared in the Report, that even if the amount now available to meet losses should prove inadequate, and involve an encroachment on the rest, and the standard to the root disadvantageous quate, and involve an encroachment on the rest, it would not, under the most disadvantageous circumstances that they can at present contemplate, be of considerable extent, compared with the sum now standing at the credit of that account; and any encroachment will become altogether unnecessary, if the profits of the next two or three years should admit of further moderate additions to the Bad-debt Fund.

Agreeably to the wish expressed by severa reprietors, at the last meeting, a balanced account of the assets and itabilities of the Cor-poration is also given, showing, in connexion with the other two statements, the actua position of its affairs.

ASSETS. Government Stock, Specie, and Cash ... 255,237 15 Landed Property and Bank Premises ... 13,479 6 Bills receivable, and other Securities ... 1,486,319 2 LIABILITIES. Capital 900,000 0 0
Circulation 73,945 0 0
Bills Payable and other
Liabilities 149,877 5 11

16. The Directors further announce that the second instalment of £10, on the New Shares, will be included in the dividend to be declared in October next, after which period the New Shares will stand in all respects on the same footine as the Old Sh. res.

Shares will stand in all respects on the same footing as the Old Sh. res.

11. Regretting, as the Court of Directors do, that they have not been able to make a more favourable report on this occasion, yet they look with confidence to the internal resources of those vast colonies, and the energy of their population, for a restoration, within a reasonable period, to a state of prosperity, while they have the gratification of stating, that at no former period has this Bank stood in higher estimation than it does at present.

THE DEEDGING MACHINE.

By Wednesday's mail we received the return to Mr. Windeyer's address relative to the cost of the dredging machine up to 30th June, 1841; the amount of work performed by it from the time of its arrival up to 20th September, 1841; the number of full weeks employed at dredging since its arrival; the average quantity of work performed jer full week actually employed at dredging; and the degree in which the work seffected by the number of men employed. The following is a statement of the whole cost of the dredging machine up to the 30th June, 1841:—

REMARKA.—The amount past for the Dredging Apparatus cannot be distinguished from that of the Diving Relis, being included in one sum in the accounts of the Colonial Agent General.

The machine has two punts of 40 tons each attached to it. It commenced working on the lat December, 1842, and during that mouth was employed in Sydney Cove two weeks and three days, and removed 1000 tons.

In 1843, from the 2nd January to the 12th June, the machine was employed in Sydney days, and removed 4240 tons. It was then employed at Redbank, Parramatta River, until the 21st December, being four weeks and two days in actual operation, and removing 2080 tons. During 1843 the machine was actually at work twenty-eight weeks and two days, and in that time removed 16,160 tons.

From the 1st January to the 29th May, 1844, a period of five months, the machine was totally unemployed; the punts, however, were engaged in pricking bottom, and raising and removing timber. From the 29th May to the 20th September the machine was employed in Sydney Cove: it was actually at work eight weeks and five days, and removed 4680 tons.

From the 1st December, 1842, to the 20th September, 1844, a period of ninety-four weeks and one day, the machine was actually at work thirty-nine weeks and four days, leaving fifty-four weeks and three days during which it was unemployed. Of this period it was employed in the Parramatta River fourteen weeks, and in Sydney Cove twenty-five weeks and four days. Taking the whole of the time in which it was at work, it has, on the average, removed 560 tons per week; making a total of 21.840 tons. During the time the machine was unemployed the punts were occasionally engaged in other services. The machinery and vessels have been twice repaired during the time.

Up to the end of 1843, twenty-five men were attached to the steam dredging machine, employed, but since that date twenty men have been drawn daily from Hyde Park Barracks, in addition to the eight men lodged in the dredge; this number, if they were not men liable to be drawn daily from Hyde Park Barracka, in addition to the eight men lodged in the dredge; this number, if they were not men liable to be changed every day, but were selected and retained long enough to become accustomed to the work, and placed under the immediate superintendence of the overseer of the dredge, is quite as many as could be profitably employed, so long as there were but two punts attached to the dredge; but with any material decrease in that number of men, the work would be continually liable to impediment, from sickness or other casualty.

so long as there were but two punts attached to the dredge; but with any material decrease in that number of men, the work would be continually liable to impediment, from sickness or other casualty.

From this return it will be seen that after the machine was removed from the Paramatta River it remained five months idle in Sydney Cove, notwithstanding that the Colonial Secretary had promised that it should be sent either to the Hunter or Geelong. During this time there were eight men employed, in addition, we presume, to the superintendent of the vessel. The difference in expense between the machine being employed and uncumployed thus appears to be the cost of rations for 20 prisoners, the price of coals, and one or two other trifling incidental charges. Now as the whole expense to the colony of working the machine from the 1st December, 1842, to the 30th June, 1844, a period of 19 months, was less than £700, the difference between the cost of the vessel being employed and unemployed for a period of five months could not have been more than £200. During the five months that the machine was idle the interest or the cost of the craft and apparatus was virtually a dead loss to the colony, allowing a slight drawback for the services the punts performed. The cost of the craft and apparatus was virtually a dead loss to the colony, allowing a slight drawback for the services the punts performed. The cost of the craft and apparatus must have been at least £9000; and taking the interest of this outlay at 8 per cent., the amount lost to the colony by the non-employment of the machine during the first five months of 1844, was £300. Allowing £50 as a drawback to put this amount for the services rendered by the punts duing the time, the loss is still £250; a sum more than sufficient to have provided rations for the 20 extra men, and to have paid for coals and any extra stores that might have been required. On the ground of economy of the public money, therefore, the colony is a loser by keeping the dredging machine unemploy

Post Phillip Mail.—We do not expect that the Port Phillip mail will arrive this morning. We have seen a certificate from Mr. Brown, the Postmaster at Albany, stating that during a seven year's residence on the banks of the Murray he had never seen it in anything approaching the state it was on the first week of the present mouth, and that he considers it impassable. The weather in the early part of the present week was not calculated to improve the chance of getting over. Messrs. Rutledge and Green, who conveyed the mail for five years previous to the present, have obtained the configact for 1845.

Van Diemen's Land, and few extracts from Van Diemen's Land papers will be found in the fourth page of this morning's Herald.
Central Chininal Court.—The Chief Instice and a Jury were occupied the whole of yesterday from the opening of the Court until ten minutes past nine r.m., in the trial of John Hodges, Hichard Webb, James Slade, and Thomas Sullivan, who were jointly indicted for conspiring to keep a witness, named John Howell, out of the way, whose evidence was material in the trial of the prisoner Hodges and one Thomas Lynch, upon the charge of receiving stolen property. The prisoners were all found guilty, but the last three were recommended to mercy on account of their previous good sharater, and Sullivan upon the additional ground of his having, in the Jury's opinion, been imposed upon by the others. The prisoners were all remanded for sentence.

ALLIANNE ASSURANCE COMPANY.—A meeting of the Shareholders of this Company was held on Wednesday, when it appeared the liabilities of the Company amount to £15,000, and Marine Insurances to the amount of £11,000. If the Company amount of £15,000, and Marine Insurances to the amount of £11,000. To meet these liabilities to £11,000. To meet these liabilities to £11,000. To meet these liabilities there is a capital of £18,000, a considerable portion of which is in cash, and the remainder in bills considered good, and sharehold interests, the liabilities of course are contingent, and there may arise no demand from them. It appeared also that the late Secretary, having died suddenly, left defalcations, unaccounted for, to the amount of £1,700; and it appears that the Directors neglected to take security from him, agreeably to the requirements of the Deed of Settlement, clause 67. The property left by the Secretary has been surrendered to the Company by his brother, and was purchased by the Chairman of the Company, from the other directors, for £900; by which arrangement the Company with only loose £800. Some of the Shareholders contemplate proceedings against the Dir ings against the Directors for this amount in consequence of their not having taken the security which they ought to have done.

STATE OF TRADE—LIVERPOOL.—Parliamentary discussion has absorbed a large portion of the attention of the mercantile world, and business has again suffered from the unsettled state of the great measures that have been brought forward. So far as Liverpool is concerned, these changes have met with no favour. Whig, Tory, and Radical, all feel that something more is intended than meets the eye, and so long as the intended than meets the eye, and so long as the intended than meets the eye, and so long as the intended than meets the eye, and so long as the intended than meets the eye, and so long as the intended than meets the eye, onsiderable leases must have ensued. The large arrivals of produce during the last fortnightare now coming on the market, and we have this week experienced a better feeling in all branches, both buyer and seller being disposed to business. Money is plentful, and readily obtainable at low rates, on good security, yet there is very little speculation going on. Cotton has been in better demand: the trade have come torward more freely and the sales have been larger than for many weeks, whilst the prices for middling sorts are certainly a shade higher, and there is a more healthy appearance altogether. The import weeks, whilst the prices for middling sorts are certainly a shade higher, and there is a more healthy appearance altogether. The import weeks, whilst the prices for middling sorts are certainly a shade higher, and there is a more healthy appearance altogether. The import weeks, whilst the prices for middling sorts are certainly a shade higher, and there is a more healthy appearance on the Corn Exchange. There now seems but very little chance of a low rate of duty this summer, and, therefore, what foreign supplies, fro oranges, 6 and 10 and 10 and 10 a

THE WOOL MARKET.

THE WOOL MARKET.

THE prices of wool having been maintained through the sales in London in June last, has caused great enquiry in the market, although very little of the new clip has been offered. Fleece wool sold readily at 1s. 2d. per pound, which is at least 4d. per pound more than this time last year. The Colombian and Gleavay had arrived at Liverpool, and the sale of their cargoes was to take place on the 4th July, to be immediately followed by sales in London, which it was thought, from the large quantity of colonial wools that had arrived, would cause a slight fall in prices.

PARRAMATTA.

Coroners's Inguest.—An inquest was held, on Saturday last, at Watsford's public-house, Charch-street, on the body of Margaret Healey, who had met her death by failing from a dray, a few days previously, on the Prospect Road, whilst in a state of intoxication. She was carried to the General Hospital, in Parramatta, and, after lingering a few days, expired. On the above being adduced in evidence, the Jury returned a verdict of accidental death. It had been rumoured that the accident had been caused by a man, who was in company with the deceased, pushing her off the dray; but nothing appeared in the evidence to warrant this assertion. The deceased had once before been admitted into the Hospital, in consequence of the injuries she had received from a similar accident.

Police Office.—Nothing of any consequence has been brought under the notice of the police authorities since our last communication. On Saturday and Monday, our Police Magistrates and all the officials were absent in Sydney, on the trial of the Queen v. Hedges and others; but on the former day there was but on assme on the police sheet, and on the latter, only three, which were disposed of respectively by Mr. Suttor and Dr. Anderson.

HUNTING A House-strates,—On Saturday last, a man who gave his name George, and stated himself to be Captain Fiper's groom, came to Mr. Bridges' public-house, the Babes in the Wood, George-street, having with him a very nice horse. This he put into the stable, and remained till Sunday. On that day Mr. Diracoll, a livery stable keeper of Sydney, came to Parramatts, to learn from Mr. J. Anderson, the brands of a horse which had been stolen from him the day before. He stopped at Mr. Bridges', and putting his horse into the stable, and remained till Sunday. On that day Mr. Diracoll, a livery stable keeper of Sydney, came to question George, but this gentlemen had been too queit for them all, for they returned to question George, but this gentlemen had been too queits for them in the condition of the condition of the police, w

Gistlement,—In the report of the dabate or education, in the Legislative Council, published in your paper of the 11th instant, Mr. There is represented to have said, that in order to is represented to have said, that in order to satisfied of the evils of the denominational system, it was only necessary to stay at Wollongong for forty-eight hours; and with a rive to prove the soundness of his position, he gos schoolhouse with commodious apartment in the master, built at an expense to the colony a schoolhouse with commodious apartment in the master, built at an expense to the colony a public purpose has this building been devoteding any country town in England. And to whe public purpose has this building been devoteding the last seven years it has housed on comatable who takes care of it, and there is stands, a monument of the vicciousness and inefficiency of the denominational system. In the control of the master recently gave up because his school would or maintain him, and went as a stock-keeps. With reference to these observations, I side called upon to assure the honorable gentlems, that if before jumping to such a conclusion upon such premises, he had devoted baltication of the master that is the fore jumping to such a conclusion point during one of his visits to Wollongon is making that enquiry, which in his capacity of the would have found that the partial failure of the denominational system in the case referred in the cas

the situation of poundkeeper; what comease there exists between the duties of two sintions apparently so incompatible, I know not-but this I do know, that if the duties of either faithfully discharged, those of the other must necessarily be neglected. But other causes as well have operated to render the denominational system nearly useless in the school; among which are the immoral condense of one master, against whom a charge of the most revolting nature was brought, (that is was immediately dismissed in consequence! will not take upon me to affirm,) and the inefficiency of others.

Is it fair, is it reasonable, thus to endeavor to cast a slur upon a system, because the system has been in a solitary instance rendered abortive, by the improper mainare in which a has been worked? The fact of so expensive to that for which it was originally crede, afterds a convincing proof to an approach to that for which it was originally crede, afterds a convincing proof to an approach to find the community held, and still held, the Irak National System of Education.

building being devoted to a purpose so forest to that for which it was uriginally creed, affords a convincing proof to an impropulation of the abhorrence in when the community held, and still held, the Irak National System of Education, which was attempted to be introduced into ecology at 1836, and for the first exhibition of which Wollongong was selected as the fittest plac. For a reason to which it is not now necessary to advert: and so convinced were the Government of the Iriah System being unacceptable; the people, it is a matter of notoriety that the Wollongong National School-house, as it is termed, would not have been built, had not the contractor insisted, as he had an undoubter right to do, upon the fulfilment of his contract which had been, I believe, somewhat prenturely, on the part of the Crown, entered into Mr. Therry, in looking round "our town," has been able to see three or four small cottage occupied as denominational schools. I have never seen nor have I ever heard, until now, of more than two denominational schools in Wollongong, viz., the Roman Catholic School which has been always held in the chapel, and the Church of England School, which has feseveral years been held in a very substantife brick building, erected at a cost of some £68, and which has been all along used also we temporary place of worship, and is fally capth of containing 120 persons.

That the Church of England Denominational School has been and is generally acceptable whe people, is manifest from the following quarterly abstract of the number of children of the admission book, during the years 184.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Hereing Gentlemen,—In the report of the proceeding of the Synod of Australia, my name is actuded in a list of persons appointed as a Committee to procure an alteration in the Principal Committee to procure an alteration in the Principal Committee to procure an alteration in the Principal Committee by changing the designation of the Scotia and to abandon the connexion that subsists between them.

by changing the designation of the Synod, ast to abandon the connexion that subsists between them.

To prevent any mistake in future, here, at elsewhere. I beg to state, that my name was inserted without my knowledge or consect and that while I maintain the due dependent of the Colonial Church upon the governing body in the mother country. I have never approved of, but to the utmost of my ability resisted, the above measures, as illegal, meassitutional, incompetent, and destructive.

The ministers of the Synod are, in my opinion, not at liberty to alter their designation: for the Act of Council 4 Vict., No. 18, provides "that the several powers, privilegs, and advantages conferred by this Act, upon the Synod of Australia, shall cease and determine, unless the said Synod shall continue in adherence to the doctrines of the confession of faith, and to the other standards and formularies of the Established Church of Scotland, and in the exercise of discipline shall follow the laws of that Church." Nor are the minister of the Established Church of Scotland in the colony, as the Churches were creeted, and are maintained, with the understanding that they can be occupied only by ministers and congregations of the establishment; or, is the words of the constitution drawn out for the Church at Goulburn, "they shall be devoted to the dispensation of religious ordinances, according to the directories and practice of the Established Church of Scotland, and and all always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church." Further, and all always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church." Further, and all always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church." Further, and all always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church." Further, and all all always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church." Further, and all all always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church." Further, tice of the Established Church of Scotlans, as shall always have for their ministers regularly ordained Clergymen of that Church. Further it is not in the power of any ministers to desolve the connexion existing between the Synd and the Church of Scotland, whose recognition of the control of the control of the control of Scotland, whose recognitions are submitted.

and the Church of Scotland, whose recognize gives a title to the privileges and emolument conferred by the State upon the members of that Church in the colony.

Late accounts from Scotland show that the course adopted by some Colonial Churches, and nearly identical with that adopted by the Synod, has given universal dissatisfaction, both to the free and catablished Churches; and as the General Assembly has adopted energetimeasures to secure for the establishment herights to the Clergy reserves in Canada, there can be no doubt that she will not neglect her attached and obedient children in this colory.

JOHN M (GARVIE, D.D. JOHN M'GARVIE, D.D.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.
GENTLEMEN.—The statements respecting the Wesleyan Schools, first made in the Colonial Observer, and subsequently brought forward in the speeches of the honorable and reverend member for Port Phillip, and the honorable and learned member for Sydney, are regarded by some of my friends se calculated to inflict an unmerited injury on the Wesleyan Church in New South Wales. Had they appeared only in the leader of the Observer, they would have been unnoticed by me, on the ground, that all remarks, emanating from such a source, affecting the character and conduct of individuals or communities, are generally received with great caution. But as they have been repeated in the Legislative Assembly, and were they to pass without contradiction some persons might regard the imputations as being well founded, I am induced to trouble you with this communication.

Be it known therefore to all and severally those who may hereafter honour us with their notice to obtain more correct information, or to exhibit a more Christian line of conduct, as the case may be.

I must also trespass on your space by a remark respecting the Newtown School, to which such unnecessary prominence has been given. Mr. McKenny stated, that he was not acquainted with the relative numbers of children in that school, and wished to avoid answering the question. However, being pressed for a reply, he stated that there might not be more than half-a-dozen children of Wesleyans in the school It appears, however, that he used the word Wesleyans in the connexional sense of communicants, and not in the general one of persons attending our ministry. The facts are these: there are in the school at Newtown thirty-four children whose parents are members of the Wesleyan Congregation, and several of the rest, it is believed, belong to persons who attend no place of worship. These facts are perhaps of no importance, beyond setting the affair in a proper light, and showing that fair play has not characterised all the proceedings in the late educational movement.

I ought not to have been obliged to state these facts through the medium of your pages, as an honorable member was furnished with the partisulars above given as it regards the Newtown school, and requested to bring them before the House, which he promised to do. As imputations were cast upon an unoffending body of Christians, in the last night's debate, and the honorable member did not make use of the means of removing them which had been placed in his hands, I have no alternative but remaining under those imputations, or thus repelling them.

Were this the time or place for making request, I, as a member of the community, would request His Excellency to make no provision for education, but afford the several parties interested an opportunity of proving the sincerity of their claims for that blessing, by subscribing liberally towards its extension and establishment in the colony. The majority would

"Sir,—The keg of colonial tobacco purchased from you some short time since, marked "Waithall's Honey Dew," is of a superior description, and reflects great credit upon the manufacturer, and is decidedly the best sample of Colonial tobacco I ever saw, and I have no doubt will ultimately supersede the necessity of importing.

CHARLES CHAPMAN begs to intime that after many trials of Colonial Timber, he has at last discovered a quality not inferior to Quebec or Virginia, and that he has now for inspection Casks which he is enabled to recommend to those especially who are concerned in shipping, either for oil, water casks, or any other purpose.

C. C. would feel encouraged by an inspection, as he has been at considerable expense before he has been enabled confidently to recommend them to the public; and as it has been his object to bring out the resources of the Forests of Australia, he has no doubt but he will be patronised in his endeavour.

SHOCK OF AN EARTHQUAKE AT FLINDER'S ISLAND.

WE have been favoured with the following sensibly experienced at Flinder's Island on the 18th of August last. We are in-formed that in 1827 the shock of an earthquake was felt in this colony, but we not aware that anything of the kind has happened since that period :-

"Flinder's Island, 19th August, 1844 "My dear Sir, -It cannot be uninter-ting to you to be informed that there was distinctly felt in every house on this settlement last night, about half-past 11 o'clock, a slight shock of an earthquake. I had gone to sleep upon a couch in the drawing-room in this house a few minutes after 11 o'clock, and could not have slept awakened by a deep, loud, rumbling sound, apparently very near, and by a tremulous motion of the couch on which I lay. The table in the centre of the room and other loose furniture very audibly. There was no vibration of the panes of glass in the windows as there usually is during con-cussion of the atmosphere from electric der before or after in the course of the night, as I very satisfactory ascertained.

"The sound, which seemed to travel contrally, and if at all laterally in a S.E.

direction, lasted for perhaps about two seconds, and the trepidation rather longer. " My cook told me this morning that the had been promoted into the 6th Regiment, afterwards into the 25th Royal Borderers, and being found exactly what Colonel quite loud, and the same it is said occurred and being found exactly what Colone Elliott wished, was removed to the 51st, tlement, though parties differ as to the direction which the accompanying sound clear; on Saturday it was still fine, but the tervals from every point of the compass. Yesterday (Sunday) it was dark and threatening, and in the course of the afternoon and night half an inch of rain fell, with the wind fresh from about W.S.W. The mercury in the barometer had fallen a little on Saturday, and yesterday it fell during the day three-tenths of an inch (from 29'80 to 29'50. Last night it again fresh from the westward with a clear sky. these facts with observations made in Van same agency have been manifested any-where in our vicinity.—Believe me, my

"JOSEPH MILLIGAN, "J. F. Bicheno, Esq., &c., &c."

There does not appear to have been any particular change in the barometer upon the occasion of this phenomenon. At Hobart, on the 18th August, it was 29 90 early in the morning, and fell during the day to 29-80. The weather was misty, but without rain. The wind stood at N.E. during the day, but in the evening veered to S.E. At Flinder's the barometer appears to have been about the same, but the wind W. S. W. We should be glad to hear if upon this occasion there was any remarkable change at the Mag-

DISMISSED.—Information having been re-ceived that six men had absconded from Port Arthur, viz.: - James Woolf, Joseph Taylor, William Delaney, James M'Kay, William Scrimshaw, and George Britton, twelve of the Hobart Town Police were despatched with a view to their capture, along with a corporal and four soldiers of the 96th. On the party arriving at Port Sorrel, it was found that the absconders were already in custody, having been pre-viously apprehended by the constabulary of the district. They were then marched off on their way to Her Majesty's Gaoi at Hobart Town, in handcuffs, escorted by and four soldiers of the 96th. Notwith-standing this strong guard of civil and military power, one of the prisoners, George Britton, who was under charge of having escaped from Port Arthur, and committed a felony, was allowed to escape. This fellow, almost immediately after, burglariously entered the house of Mr. in procession, preceded by the full band of Wood, of Providence Valley, and stole the 96th regiment. A large body of spectherein a large proportion of that gentletherein a large proportion of that gentle-man's wearing apparel, his watch, several pied every position from which a view could possibly be obtained of the approachtrinkets, and other property. The other five persons, Woolf, Taylor, Delaney, M'Kay, and Scrimshaw, were brought safe to Hobart Town. On the following day (under the direction of the Chief Police authorities), a charge was preferred, before Mr. B. against the twelve police constables, for gross neglect of duty, in suffering the absconded offender Britton to escape from their custody under the circumstances related,-It came out in evidence that the constables had taken off the handcuffs from the prisoners at Mr. Ramsay Williamson's, Glenorchy, this being a gross dereliction of duty, and which, as if by connivance, enabled Britton to "cut by communioe, enabled bottom his stick," as was expressed by one of the witnesses. The names of the prisoners whilom constables, are as follows:— William Hughes (free), who has proba-of the party; and eleven 3rd class proba-tioners, viz:—William Goslin, John Jones, William Hughes (free), who had charge John Rolte, William Keegan, Peter Cameron, John Mason, James Jones, George Ralph, George Shepherd, James Welling, and James Haslam.—Hughes (free) was dismissed the police and fined £5; the eleven probationers were severally dismissed the police, never again to enter it, and sentenced to three months' hard our on the roads .- The corporal and four privates of the 96th have been dealt with for their neglect of duty, by the officers in garrison, under the articles of CHESS.—A challenge, we understand, has been sent from Sydney to the Chess Club of Hobart Town, couched in terms evincing no very great respect for the ca-pabilities of the players here. The chal-lenge of course has been accepted. Two games are to be played, one to be com-menced by the Hobart Town players, the other at Sydney, so that by each opportunity two moves will depart and arrive. We look with some interest to the issue,-

Adjutant Birch were carried to the grave with military honours, all the troops is garrison, to the number of nearly 500 preceding the corpse, which was followed by the naval officers from the Observatory, several of the Commissariat and Ordnanc officers, and a few civilians. The fine band of the 51st Regiment, under Mr. Duly's able direction, played the beautiful Dead March by Kuffner, so familiar to us when the 21st Regiment was here, from the Barracks to St. David's (hurch, and thence to the Burial Ground Handel's Dead March in Saul, arranged by Mr. Duly for the excellent band of which he is so admirable a master. A very large co ourse of persons were congregated in the Barrack-square, and in the adjoining streets, reminding us of the assemblage which had collected to witness the departure of Sir John Franklin, save that more gravity marked their conduct; for the deceased although amongst us only for so short a period, was much esteemed, and indeed beloved. We copy the following notice from the last Review :- "Colonel Elliot, desirous of having an Adjutant who would devote his whole time and attention to the Horse Guards (on the promotion of the former Adjutant, Captain Carey), soliciting that an officer of the necessar scription might be sent out to the alst, thus for the interest of his regim placing his own patronage at the disposal of the Horse Guards. Lieutenant Birch was the officer selected. He had served

NEW WESTERN ROAD,-In a former notice of this public work, we stated that the River Leven, being deep water at the site fixed on for a bridge, formed an im-pediment to travellers until the proposed bridge could be erected, or a ferry structed : and the bar at the mouth of the river, which is the usual fording-place at low water, is not only dangerous from its great length—about a quarter of a mile— but from the muddy inlets in the river bank, and the nature of the bush, the bar can hardly be reached from the new road at all. We are happy, however, to announce to our western neighbours, that an excellent ford has been discovered by Mr. Kentish, less than half-a-mile higher up the river than the site of the intended come the best river to ford between it was passed (we believe for the first execution so cruel a sentence. time) by some persons proceeding to town with the corresponding quarter of 1843, from which we gather the following particulars :- The Ordinary Revenue derived from the Customs, Post Office, Rents, pounds less than the similar quarter of last year. During the Quarter of 1844, goes on to improve, showing a surplus Revenue over its expenses of nearly a thou-sands pounds, the whole of which amount should be applied to the extension of the accommodation of the department, the restriction of the conveniences in the delivery of letters being a subject of universal com-plaint. There is nothing further worthy of note in the items of Ordinary Revenue. cept for "Transfers from the Military Chest," would not amount to seven hundred pounds, a very cursory notice is due—these "transfers" swell out the amount by £11,600. The third head of Revenue, the Land Fund, which is a mere casualty dependent upon what land sales take place during the period involved, manifests a lamentable deficiency, the re-Elliott wished, was removed to the 213, and arrived only in the Barossa to join his Regiment. This highly promising young man was cut off by constipation, after a very short illness, at twenty-eight years of very short illness, at twenty-eight years of very short illness, at twenty-eight years of expenditure, for the same periods, are £48,132 and £42,568, showing a saving of outlay on the latter quarter of nearly £6000, and an excess of expenditure over revenue of £7000. The expenditure has evidently been most carefully controlled and shows a great evenness in the various items. There is a slight diminution in the civil, ecclesiastical, and schools' depart-ments, also in the judicial, excepting the "Supreme Court" expenses, which have augmented by more than half. "Miscel laneous" items, exclusive of "Transfers to Military Chest," have been diminished by £1174. Finally, the expenses chargeable on the Land Fund exhibit a trifling saving on the recent quarter, and no other par-ticular worthy of note, except a praise-worthy abatement from £1155 to less gration. We believe the Government does all in its power to nurse the revenue and sistent with the efficiency of the public service (which in a colony like our own must be made efficient,) and that the inadequacy of our resources to meet the ne-cessary demands upon them depends upon

The workmen having completed the preliminary arrangements to facilitate her transit from land to water, Mrs. Raven was conveyed christening, amid the martial sounds of the band of the 96th, which was stationed board the Gipsy, greatly adding to the interest of the occasion. At the appointed signal the wedges were withdrawn, the wine dashed at her prow, and she glided into her future home—the Sucan. BUSINESS IN CAIRO. - Wheat is a or oxen. The businesss of the baker is us. The loaves are usually made ready by the customers, and brought at stated hours, one or twice in the day, to the baker, always kept heated, and in a few minutea returns them sufficiently baked, for which he receives a small sum. I had to advance money to the baker to purchase flour, as he would not incur a risk himself, and also to pay him in part in advance for his labour. I enquired why he was so cautions, as he would have the bread for his security till he should receive his pay. His reply was, that he wanted money and not bread, and that I might only intend to make a fool of him. I found this to be the usual practice with tradesmen, who will not do work to the amount of a few pinsters without receiving a part of the area. a part of the pay in advance. I sent my boots to a shoemaker to be repaired, by my servant; who soon returned and asked for four or five piasters, without which the man refused to underta'te them.

A. R. SAMUEL DAVIES, elder son of the late James Davier, deceased, and administrator to his estate, begs most respectfully to inform the members of the Subscription Room, from whom his late father received so many acts of support and kindness during his lifetime, that he has determined to carry on the business of the Subscription Room in all its departments, as it has existed during the last sixteen years, as well as of the tavern and botel; and be trusts, with numerous improvements, now in progress of fulfilment, with regard to the quantity, quality, and priority of information from every quarter of the world. To accomplish these objects no pains or expense will be spared; and Mr. Samuel Davies hopes, in consequence, that he will receive from the members of the Subscription Room some portion, at least, of that support which enabled his father to render it the centre of political and commercial intelligence.

Arrangements are in progress, and will speedily be completed, for placing in the hands of the members of the Subscription Room not only the earliest intelligence which may reach, Bristol, Liverpool, Falmouth, Portson atth, Dover, &c., but also by Mr. Waghorn's express, whatever can be forwarded by him from Egypt, India, and China, and at the same time as the news are received by the morning and evening newspapers.

At a time when the public are paying 14d. and 2d. a pound for beef, it is but fair that the grazier, whenever he brings to market a fat, heavy, prime meated beast, should have a remunerating price for it; for it will ever prevent good beef coming to market (and do irreparable injusty to the colony heaides) if mensit in their suddles and bid with their shiphaudles for them as stock put up "to be fattened," instead of animals, "being fattened," to kill. In fact, there will be no such thing soon as "reast beef" to be had; it will all be melted into London farthing rushlights unless the 3y doey buyers are more reasonable towards the settler.
